comment on fracking waste water usage:

the fracking companies need to clean their water before it is used for land or livestock use. The water should be free of toxins and pollutants, safe for humans because we'll be eating the livestock or eating the food grown on the land. The EPA needs to rewrite the regulations/standards to improve the waste-water treatment or at least stick to its current regulations and standards. The profits of oil/natural gas companies cannot be held to be more important than caring for the environment and the lives that it supports today and in the future!

What goes 'round, comes 'round and the lives not protected today will hold you accountable tomorrow.

Sincerely, Meredith Neria
